

Nomination for a Lay Ministry Licence from the Bishop

The minister of a parish or ministry unit or the Bishop themselves can ask for the Bishop to give a licence to a person in their parish or unit to do a particular kind of ministry. The minister asking for the licence makes a “nomination”. The minister asks the Bishop to give a licence to the “nominee”. Ministers of a parish or ministry unit should complete this form with the nominee. The Bishop asks questions to make sure that a nominee is qualified for the ministry work their minister wants them to do.
